Softball

This was a big year for the softball team, they finally made it to the post-season after 30 years. Coach Deb Parker was quoted as saying "It's enormous, we've been chasing this for over 30 years". The team was excited about getting themselves to the posts-eason, and thought they didn't leave the way they wanted to.

"This is by far the most talented team I've coached in seven years and seen in the last twenty, so they definitely deserve to be out there", says Parker about the team. These girls worked their butts off to get this far, and the satisfaction of going further than past SHS softball teams have been able to for thirty years should make them pretty proud of themselves. It is also an especially satisfying way for the seniors to end their time at SHS.

Sharon High Girls Tennis Team

Co-captains Melissa Yuan and Sam Salvatore.

Ready to take on any challenge an opposing team brought, the 2010-2011 Sharon Girls Tennis team had a great season. Led by co-captains senior Sam Salvatore and junior Melissa Yuan along with Coach Abram and Coach Micheroni, the whole team worked extremely hard. Practicing everyday after school during the nice, spring season, all the girls devoted much of their effort and contributed to their great season. Having much talent on the team, the team played almost all of their players in at least one varsity match. The loud cheers and support they got from each other not only showed a display of great team spirit, but also how the team itself was almost like a family. The girls trained hard and made it to the second round of states, finishing as one of the top teams in the Hockomock League. Playing as one of the strong teams in their league, they were always putting up a fight with their opponents. Playing against some of the strongest, toughest teams in their league, the girls truly never gave up and always played every point with all their strength. The team has high hopes of continuing their great success and they all look forward to continuing their passion for tennis as they finished the 2010-2011 season off strong and are ready to come back bigger and better next year.

SAILING

This was not the greatest season for the SHS sailing team with more losses than wins, but the team bonds more over the experience than the score. They work together despite the occasional unruly weather conditions, and the rare occasional injury, (watch your fingers!).

As it has been said by team members before, sailing is something all the teammates can relate to with one another, despite the possibility of being from different social circles. They work hard and seem to have a lot of fun doing it. Props to the sailing team for their extraordinary effort this season, and good luck next year.

Boys Lacrosse

The 2011 boys lacrosse team had an amazing season that included many wins and only a few slight losses. Their great teamwork and athletic ability gave them enough wins to get them to a tournament in Peabody where the eagles faced an unfortunate loss. Although it ended short this season will always be a memorable one.

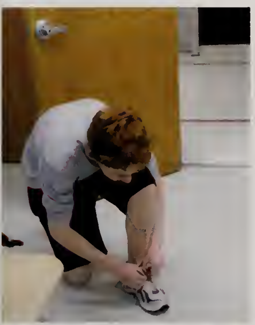
Dreamfar Marathon

Below: A student tying his laces so that he won't trip and hurt himself on his run.



On the day of the marathon, the excitement and anticipation cannot be described. Over 5000 runners waited in the street in Providence for the run to begin. Among those runners were students and teachers from Sharin High School and also from Newton North, Newton South, and Brookline High Schools. This elite group of students and teachers are among only 1% of people who will succeed in running a marathon.

They dedicated most of their year to training to run a marathon, which is an incredible 26.2 miles. Along with them are their mentors, a group of teachers who are running alongside the students and helping them get through training. The training included running three days per week, twice after school in Sharon and every Saturday in Brookline. they ran, rain or shine, snow or sleet.

But is was all worth it, for the feeling that they felt when they crossed that finish line on May 1. They achieved something that very few people ever will in their lifetime. And for the students, they did it before they graduated High School.

MISSION:

Dreamfar High School Marathon turns the road into the classroom. We challenge high school students to reach their full potential in and out of school by demonstrating how dreams can be realized through hard work. DHSM focuses on character building, setting realistic goals, fostering teamwork and establishing a safe endurance base. We believe in our students' physical and emotional strength and fortitude; we look at the marathon course as the first of many trails they can blaze.

YOU JUST GOT SERVED!

Incredible. Unstoppable. Unbelievable. These are just some of the amazing words that come to peoples' minds when they think of the 2010-2011 Sharon High boys tennis team. Having some pure, young talent on the team, the boys had the perfect season. Going 16-0, undefeated, the boys' team finished first in the Hockomock League for 32nd consecutive year. Lead by co-captains senior Brad Malenich and Jeremy Adler along with Coach Freeman, the team hard work paid off as they took down their opponents one by one. Supporting each team member, they all worked together to strategize and train. The boys' tennis team gained the reputation as one of the most respected sports teams for their amazing display of team work and just pure talent. The team is honored to have some of the best players in the Hockomock League. Doubles partners Eric Bloom and Jake Steinberg were named Hockomock League All-Stars while Vivek Nangia was named Hockomock League MVP. They continue to play in the MIAA state tournament and hope to finish as one of the top schools in Massachusetts. Working with unbelievable determination and work ethics, the team trains every day for hours and play on their own to improve their skills and only get better. With the 2010-2011 season coming to a close end, they will still continue to train and get better and better until they reach absolute perfection. With amazing new talent coming in every year, the team is excited to keep their tradition their unstoppable love and power for the game of tennis.

A night to remember

This year's junior prom was held at the Lombardo's Ballroom in Randolph, Massachusetts and was certainly a night to remember! After being greeted by the giant chandelier in the foyer, students walked into the ballroom which was illuminated by a majestic purple light. The students danced the night away and had an unforgettable experience. Junior Prom was another success for the class of 2012 executive and planning boards. A lot of time, effort, and thought went into every detail of the night.

Real World Jungle, here we come...

GRADUATION

And we are READY!!!

The weather could not have been more perfect, a breezy and sunny 72 degree day. Parents, family and friends packed the bleachers to celebrate the graduation of the class of 2011. The seniors started in the tennis courts and walked onto the field in their caps and gowns. The ceremony began with Mr. Libano welcoming everyone. Then, the choir sang the Star Spangled Banner to open the ceremonies. Senior Class President Cate Horan made the first speech and talked about the "energy" of her class. The inspiring valedictorian speech was given by Alexander Wardstadt who talked of his own experiences, and then Alexander Polyak gave the class chosen, (very witty) speech. Dr. Dunham gave her last commencement farewell and Glenn Allen, Chair of the School Committee commented on his experiences being the father of one of the graduates. A tribute was given to retiring teacher John Brande by asking him to address the class.

After all the speeches, the diplomas were finally handed out. The recession was serenaded by "The Peak of Otter" okayed by the High School Concert Band.

Best wished to the Class of 2011 as you all leave Sharon High to find your new place in the jungle we call the real world.

Letter From The Editors

SHARON HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY
181 POND STREET
SHARON, MA 02067

Dear Sharon High,

First and foremost, we hope that you will enjoy reading this yearbook as much as we enjoyed making it ! In making this year's yearbook, we were inspired to create something different than past years that would truly reflect our student body. We wanted to showcase the unseen talents and personalities of our fellow classmates and along the way we discovered the hidden layers of Sharon High School. We found the motivations of students and the ways in which they relieve the many stresses of Sharon High School. Also, when creating this year's yearbook, we wanted it to be unique to the 2010-2011 school year, which had many new changes such as the infamous late start. We hope this year's yearbook encompasses everything we remember from high school and hopefully people will cherish it for the rest of their lives.

Last, but definitely not least, we would like to thank our staff for being so devoted and diligent this year. We would like to thank Ms. Schreiber for helping us and putting in long hours to make this yearbook a success.

MA ENGOLD

High school can seem like a jungle. For most, survival of the fittest often appears to be a way of life amidst rigorous schedules of classes, homework, clubs, sports, and extracurricular activities. And if that wasn't enough to threaten your position in life's food chain, MCAS, SATs, college applications, and beyond attempt to keep even the most motivated at the bottom of the heap. If you are determined enough to thrive in Sharon High School's endless jungle, you still have to find your place amongst your friends and peers and figure out just who you are and where you belong.

Layers

But by taking the time to turn over the leaves in the trees and look beneath the surface of our school, you will soon discover that there is so much more to Sharon High School students than just a fierce struggle to the top. We are a jungle of hidden talents, adorned with an array of hopes and dreams that go beyond the walls of our school and extend to so many different facets of our community and the world.

Just like there are different layers to a jungle, there are endless layers to our students for those who decide to take a deeper look and discover just what lies beneath the surface.

Dedication

I'll be there when your last breaths taken away
In the dark when there's no one listening

Somewhere alone in the bitterness
And I would have stayed up with you all night
Had I known how to save a life."

Jonathan Smetkov

Graduating With the Class of 2011

Jonathan Smetkov was a beloved classmate who unfortunately passed away much too early. Although his life was lost in the eight grade, Jon has continued on as our classmate in the Class of 2011. We would love to honor him by dedicating this yearbook to Jon and filling it with love and memories of who he was.

When doves cry...
You know something tragic has just occurred
Their wings would want to leave
Instead...

When doves cry...
There is no explanation or even a warning
They just appear and grieve.

When doves cry...
There are so many questions
without so many answers and
It makes it hard to breathe

When doves cry...
They tend to fly and so many try
To desperately follow a lead
In hopes of finding a solution for sorrow
Only to find

That when doves have cried
They fly so high,
They're lost in flight
And a flash of white light
Leaves...
No trace for one to believe.

It was just an ordinary day
The hearts of many, beating softly
Except one.
As the word echoes through the halls
We sit and wait
Sit and wait
Mouths are dry
Nobody moves.
Heart beats quicken
Murmurs get louder
Rumors spread.
Then the tears.
The less we know
The easier it is to let go
With our heads down,
Comes the silence..
Four years later, we go on
With hearts that constricted so long ago
On just an ordinary day
That wasn't so ordinary.
And so you, Jon Smetkov, our dear friend
You will never be forgotten.

You will never be forgotten.

In Memory of

Dear Steve,
I never thought I would be writing something like this, but here goes. You were my best friend when we were kids. Every day I think back to those days at heights elementary, when we would always meet at the crosswalk before school and walk to school together. We always hung out. I can't remember a time when you weren't at my house or when I wasn't at yours. You were like my brother when we were kids, and I wish we hadn't grown apart as we got older. I miss you so much. Every night before I go to bed, I pray that you're doing well up there. I know I will see you again one day. I have dreams all the time about us as little kids, just running around in my grandparents back yard, trying to either catch squirrels (which we could never do no matter how hard we tried hahaha) or trying to catch as many salamanders as we could. I wish I could go back to those days and live every second of them over again. I always have flashbacks of you, me, Griff, and Jared, when we would have lemonade stands out on the top of Berkshire Street and when we would play golf in your back yard. I also remember the day when you figured out that Old Spice body spray was incredibly flammable. You sprayed the inside of a 2 liter coke bottle and dropped a match in it, and nothing happened at first. Then Jared walked over, and you squeezed the bottle, and a huge flame shot out at him and burned his eye brows completely off. I still think back to that and laugh about it. I'll never be the same without you, and I will always love you as a brother. I know you are doing well up there, I just wish you didn't leave me and everyone else so soon. I love you Stephen, and you will always be my brother.
-Joey Mitchell

I do think about you a lot. I'm still in denial. Though you help me out tons, so thanks. Miss you
-Madi Bader

Stephen,
Even though I didn't know you that well, I still heard so many great things about you. It came to a complete shock to me that you passed especially hearing about what a great person you were. It is completely incomprehensible to me and I am sure to others how come good people pass away so young. Now, you can rest easy and watch over all of your friends and family. We all know you are up there watching all of us. You have made a real difference in a lot of people's lives. I think about you often. I think about what you mean to SO many people. You were an incredible kid and you are greatly missed. Rest easy, Stephen. You are thought of all the time. Never forget what you mean to people.
-Anonymous

"Look at the stars,
Look how they shine
for you"

Stephen,
I think about you every day, and still haven't totally grasped the fact that you're not here anymore. I remember walking with you at night and meeting half way all the time and just talking about life. We were close when we were younger and I'll never forget your birthday party when I got you a gold bionical haha. I know that we grew apart over the years but I was so happy that we rekindled our friendship over the last couple years. We've had so many great memories and they'll always stay with me, like when I used to drive you to school and demand we listened to "G6" every morning, you'd get so mad but you'd still put up with it. I love going to see your family and spend time with them because it's just a reminder of you. You were probably one of the nicest, most level headed, down to earth people I will ever meet. You've impacted so many people's lives in such good ways whether or not you realized it. I'm never going to forget about you and I hope you're doing well up there. I love and miss you more than you will ever know. I keep thinking too: "it's not goodbye, it's see you later" and you know what, it is see you later. Rest in peace.
Love always,
Channelle

Stephen Mercuri

Dear Stephen,

I can't even begin to tell you how much I miss you, this is hard for me to do so just bear with me haha. Well first off let me just start by saying you are one of funniest people I ever met in my life, you always knew how to make me laugh whenever I was feeling down or just needed cheering up for whatever reason. I remember when you used to crack jokes in chemistry class, you would have the whole class laughing their butts off in no time. I've always appreciated the fact that you were such a kind and caring person, you were always there for me whenever I needed anything, whether it was me needing a lift to my next class, or just to talk, you were always there when I needed help. I want you to know that I pray for you every night before I go to sleep, just to see how you doing. Words can't begin to describe how your absence has affected not only me, but everyone you've come in contact with. Steven, I am extremely glad I got to meet someone like you, you impacted my life in a way that you will never know. You know I often ask myself "why do such bad things happen to such good people?" I still have yet to figure out that answer, and you're definitely one person that comes to mind when I am pondering this question. I wish you hadn't left us so soon, I wish we got the chance to become better friends. You and your family will always remain in my prayers, because I too, know what it feels like to lose someone who is very close to you (Stephen's family). Stephen Mercuri, I can truly say, you are one person I will never forget for the rest of my life. God Bless and R.I.P #

P.S. Say hello to my brother for me? :)

-Josh Owens

You had such a positive impact on so many people. You are the person I want to become. I love and miss you so much Stephen. You will always be my little brother.

Love, Jess

Stephen,

Not a day goes by that we don't think of you and shed a tear. We will always love and miss you each and every day for the rest of our lives.

We pray that you are at peace.

Love, Mom and Michelle

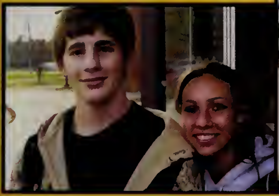
17 years was not enough time to spend with my best friend. Stephen Lee you are forever loved and missed. Love, Dad

You'll forever be remembered as the hilarious, happy-go-lucky kid who somehow was always at peace.

-Jay Sharma

Stephen,

Over the summer I got to know you again since we worked together all the time. Chillin' on the golf course at 7:00 am was always fun and we never got anything done all day. I remember all I did was break stuff and on my last day I completely crashed the cart and you were there laughing, but it was fine because you and me fixed the cart before the day ended. I miss the days you'd be chillin' at cumbys and then came back to Moscas and hang out with us for the night. Incendio - enough said. Rest easy man. -Rob "Hippo" Kaz



Stephen,

I'll always remember you for being that real and straight up kid. You taught me to value my friends and to be as real as you were. I'll always remember the good laughs we had, especially the Italian and Russian jokes we would crack. I got to know you really well and only wish that I had gotten to know you even better. I'll never forget you. Rest in peace brother.

- Big Misha Stonov

Stephen,

Even though we grew apart the last few years in high school, not a day goes by where I don't think about you and how great of a person you were. I have nothing but fond memories of you. You were always the "funny guy" in class and I remember you constantly making me laugh in Mrs. Stewart's second grade class. You were always really nice to me, which shows just one of the ways you had such a kind heart. You have greatly impacted so many people, including me, and have inspired me look at life similar to how you did, as many people have described as care-free, happy, and enthusiastic. I never thought I would be writing something like this, especially for such an amazing person; this little blurb does not do you justice. I hope you're doing well, Stephen, so many people miss you and love you. Fondly, Stephanie Berenson

SENIOR year has been a roller coaster of emotions. With the stress of college applications and the subsequent yearning for that one envelope in the mail, we have been through our fair share of hair-ripping, teeth-clenching, nail-biting anxiety, and we are now desperately waiting for our graduation. Zinnia Sidhwa summarized her thoughts on her senior year, "There have been ups and downs, but it was the best year ever. As much as I want to leave Sharon High School, I want to stay with my friends and classmates and never leave." In addition, Marissa Lowen-Klein, when asked about her opinion of her final year, said, "Senior year has been fun, despite its rocky beginning and challenges and is going to leave me with good memories from Sharon High School."

Growing up and attending school in Sharon has not been a walk in the park for any of us. Sharon Passov echoed a shared sentiment amongst many students, "High school was extremely difficult, so I can't wait to leave and go to college, where I can begin to cultivate rewarding experiences." Alongside frequently feeling trapped and isolated in the sheltered bubble of Sharon, managing the rigor of our schedules, tending to our relationships, and desperately trying to stay awake, many of us are sick of living in a picture-perfect suburbia. Although we felt isolated, we enjoyed many successes and rose above our trying disappointments. By overcoming puberty, social and academic pressures, stress, upperclassmen, SATs, college applications, and the struggle to find and define ourselves, we have clambered through the thicket of our jungle, finally reaching the peak of the high school food chain. Despite adversity, we have survived the jungle of Sharon High School. Armed with this newfound knowledge and experience, we can continue to transition into the jungles of college, work, and adulthood. The next jungle is waiting for us, and it's time for us to conquer it!

Not the bottom of the food chain

As underclassmen, the thought of high school can seem daunting. Entering this jungle we call a school as frightened freshmen we wander the halls, attempting to survive our first year. Attempting, and sometimes failing to unravel the mystery that is physics, mastering the languages we took in middle school, and napping during geometry. We return as sophomores, ready to face the wild halls of Sharon High. Choosing, and sometimes regretting the choice, between Biology and Chemistry, reading Shakespeare with little success, preparing for the sophomore semi, and completing our final semester of P.E and issues for youth. As juniors we have grown completely accustomed to the environment we are in. We challenge ourselves with AP and honors classes, and sometimes realize that we may have bitten off more than we can chew. We have adapted to the horror of having to go to senior lunch which, for some freshmen the very idea was nauseating. We attempt to one up last year's Mr. SHS competition, and plan our junior prom. We go through our last year as underclassmen preparing ourselves for when this year's seniors say goodbye and we take their place. We may be underclassmen, but we will never be the bottom of the food chain.

"Six years ago my dad found an ad in the newspaper for an opera and musical theater program. Holding a great interest in the musical theater portion, I decided to try it out. A few years ago my overall interest divided and I have found myself growing to enjoy opera just as much as I do musical theater. I take part in the school musicals, but outside of school my passion has taken the opera path. In the past few years I have won two opera competitions and am competing in four more this year. For the past two summers I have traveled to Italy for an international opera program. There I sang with people from LaScala, a world renowned opera company (like the Met of Italy). Currently, I am directing and singing for a local opera company and our show premiers in April of this year."
~Tal Heller

"I got into film making by a mistake, one that I'm incredibly happy that happened. At RISD towards the beginning of ninth grade, the animation level 2 student course was canceled, and I picked a film course instead, as it would go towards the animation certificate. I immediately fell in love with an art form that I had seen as far less superior to animation because I was not knowledgeable of the challenges of making films, and how much hard work went into them. My first short was just a special effects test (a poor one at that) where I combined animation with video (because at the time it was a technique I was obsessed with). As of now I understand a lot more about film and would like to work as a director when I'm older. My favorite shots are stabilized tracking shots that are usually done on steadicam rigs. One of my favorite parts of making films comes after they are edited, and I have to color grade them. I love doing this part because it's alot of fun to see how color affects the tone of the scene. Directors who inspire me include Dave Mckean, Martin McDonagh, Ken Loach, and Gaspar Noé. Dave Mckean is much like myself as a director, because when making films he likes to be a part of every process (camera operating, composing music, editing, etc…). I also admire Tony Simonetti's work and can't wait to see more of what he makes. Some shorts that I've made can be seen online at http://www.youtube.com/JRTET21 and the newest one I'm working on should be up by June 2011."
~Jordan Tetewsky

Mark Glassman in Tony Simonetti's film "Exit Exam"

"When I got my second computer, an iMac, three years ago, I began to play around with the different things it could do. I then found iMovie and Photo Booth, so I started to write short scenes with my friends and film them with my computer's webcam. Gradually, my passion for the art grew, I got my first camera and tripod, and a few years later, I won the Hockomock Film Festival for my short film, "La Nuit Mystérieuse." The amount of work that goes into each piece is far more advanced now than it was before, given my greater understanding and experience. Mainly, my casts include my friends and acquaintances, or anyone willing to lend their pretty face! Much of what I have done has been self-inspired or prompted by ideas found online. My favorite film to date is Inception directed by Christopher Nolan, but I'm also intrigued by films with unpredictable plots or twists. Filmmaking is an indispensable hobby for me and the results of all my hard work are always priceless! My film company is called "Blue Sun Productions," and my work can be found at bluesunproductions.net."
~Tony Simonetti

"This is my fifth year rock climbing and my fourth year competing in the sport. I practice with a team twice per week. In addition, I attend a couple of competitions per month, and sometimes train outside of practices with a friend. My biggest accomplishments in the sport have been qualifying for and competing in the youth national championship twice (placing top 25 in the country) as well competing in numerous other large competitions against the best climbers on the east coast, placing third at a regional championship. In the summer, I climb for fun outdoors. This past summer Varuna and I went climbing at Cathedral Ledge and White Horse Ledge (in New Hampshire) for a week, climbing 300 to 600 foot cliffs." ~Melissa Jay

Melissa Jay climbing at Cathedral Ledge.

Melissa Jay climbing at a past National Championship.

Varuna Nangia climbing outdoors.

"I've been climbing for 4 years and have been competing for 2 yrs in both sport climbing and bouldering competitions. Last year for sport climbing I qualified both regionally and divisionally (divisionals was held in Philadelphia) and I ranked 16th in our division which is the entire Northeast. Last year I didn't compete for bouldering because I had hurt my ankle but the year before I qualified for regionals and was 9th in our region (all of New England). Overall, I prefer sport-climbing to bouldering. Bouldering is done on much shorter wall (10-20 feet) and without a harness while sport-climbing is done on really high walls(30 feet or higher) with a harness and belayer. For competitions, sport-climbing includes leading which is another form of climbing. Leading is when you periodically clip your rope into quick draws and from the three, is most dangerous. Over the summer, Melissa and I went to a climbing camp in New Hampshire called IMCS (International Mountain climbing School). There, we learned how to multi-pitch which is another form of climbing. We climbed two mountains White Horse (about 2,000 feet) and Cathedral (four hundred feet high). It was probably one of the best experiences of my life. I am on the team at Rhode Island Rock Gym which trains two days a week, everyday Tuesday and Thursday for about 3 hours. Usually, I try to get in a third day of climbing, especially before big competitions. For sport-climbing, I can climb 5.11b-5.11c and for bouldering, my very best is a V5."
~Varuna Nangia

Peeling Away the Layers of the Class of 2012

After spending a minimum of four years together, most of us would say that we know the other members of our class pretty well. But then again, how fair is it to make that assumption? We know who is on what school team; who's good at basketball, and who plays ultimate. However, there are many classmates of ours who partake in outside activities, extracurriculars unknown to most of us. Talents come in a variety of flavors. Here's a look into the incredible skills our pals have tackled and mastered outside of school.

The Ins and Out of the CLASS OF 2014

"It started as a joke between some of my friends, but I began to put together some songs and they did not sound that bad. With the help of some friends, I put together my debut album "Shattered" that was released in November. Some people would say it began by accident, but I believe it was totally meant to be. Music is a great way to express feelings and emotions in a beat that people find enjoyable to listen to. I also like rap music because it is a type of music that people can often relate to"
~Kenny Goldberg (KG)

"I started cheerleading at the beginning of this year and I love it because I've bonded so much with the girls on my team! You get so involved with school events and I can go to games to support my friends who play football or basketball. A lot of people don't realize that cheerleading is an intense sport. This year team is also going to competition and I'm really excited about that!" ~Kim Chook

"I started gymnastics when I was 2 years old, and I haven't stopped. I love everything about gymnastics especially how it is a challenging and competitive sport, and it always keeps me moving."

"I started with regular gymnastics when I was 5 or 6 years old. When I was in second grade, I went to a new gymnastics place, NESA (New England Sports Academy) and that I was going to try out rhythmic gymnastics. I disliked the idea of quitting artistic gymnastics but I went along with it anyway. This is my 9th season competing; I am in level 9 and I also do group. I train 6 days a week and I love just coming to the gym and being able to work on my routines over and over again with my music. When I get a good score on your routine, I know you earned it."
~Karen Kravets

Right: Sydney and her teammates win national champions in Florida in 2008.

"I tried a lot a variety of sports including soccer, dance, gymnastics, before I realized that all star cheerleading was for me. I really liked Pop Warner Cheerleading, but I knew I could not do Pop Warner for my whole life. In 2006, CheerFactor All-Stars opened their own gym in Foxboro and started four new cheerleading teams, and I have been cheering there ever since"

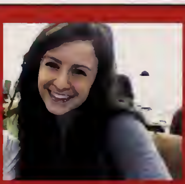
Look beneath the surface and you will see that the students of Sharon are more than meets the eye. . There are hidden talents, an amazing desire to make the world a better place and the determination to succeed at whatever we do. The jungle we call "student life" can be scary„ but when you turn over the leaves and look closely, you see that we have the ability to make the junlge we call Sharon High School a pretty great place to be.

Off To a “Late” Start

Late Start

“One perk of the late start? Spending less money on coffee!”

Marisa Friedman



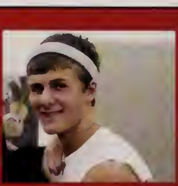
Carly Krause

“It interferes with after school activities and being able to do your homework without staying up late!”

Jake Steinberg

“It lets me sleep late but it also causes conflict with sports. Overall, it's not really making a difference for me. I liked the old schedule better.”

As the 2010-2011 school year begins, it's time, literally, for the late start to kick in at SHS. After much deliberation among students, parents and the administration, a forty minute delay has been added to the Sharon High School start time. School, which began at 7:25 a.m in previous years, now starts at 8:05 a.m. The morning delay was instituted to increase students' alertness during the beginning of the day by creating a schedule to better compliment teens' internal biological clocks. Average teen sleep cycles are between about 11:30 p.m and 8:30 a.m, which was interrupted when school started at 7:25. The goal is that students will be more alert for the first period class and will have more energy throughout the day. As with any change, the late start has sparked much debate among students and staff. Some agree with the change and some do not. But ready or not, here we come - just a little bit later.



Sam Waugh

“I like it because it gives us a chance to sleep in!”

Nicole Dodes

“I don't like the late start because we get out so late!”

Mrs. Trahan poses as the "Late Start Queen" on Halloween! She says that "a late start is the best". She is still in her pajamas and slippers and is drinking a cup of coffee.

Amanda Winfield

"I [illegible] like the late start. I'm probably the only person. I go to bed at the same time, but I get more sleep."

Xander Bennett

"[illegible] start I have more time to [illegible]"

"Personally, I'm a fan of not having to fight with my alarm clock anymore."

Helen Gong

Josh Parness

"When I wake up in the morning, I am just as tired. Because I played golf, I had to get dismissed from school, and I miss important class periods. I had lots of makeup work."

Candice Lavien

"Never have I ever been so stressed. I'm more tired and there's virtually no time between school and sports. Plus there's more traffic."

Henry Saniuk traces Ashley Sawyer as part of the Chalk for Peace program where people traced their bodies to hold hands with their fellow classmates to signify the unity of Sharon High School. They also drew symbols of peace, love, and happiness to bring a positive outlook as you enter the building!

Homecoming Football Game

Sharon played Stoughton in the big homecoming game! They played a hard game, but faced a rough loss. The game ended with a score of 7-24, but great teamwork they were able to put some points on the scoreboard. All through the game, spirited fans were there by the team's side- cheering them on!

Homecoming

Nicki DeLalla and Amanda Jenkins show their support for Spanish Club!

Unlike most schools' homecoming festivals, Sharon High School has an extravagant morning filled with fundraising for clubs, unifying activities for the students, and various sport events. To begin, most clubs set up tables and sell items from clothing to food. There were waffles, hot chocolate, and s'mores to keep everyone warm on the chilly October day. Fans were scattered between the varsity girl's soccer game at the SHS field, and the close and nerve-wracking Hockomock Classic game indoors for girl's varsity volleyball! There was great music playing where teachers and students had a blast- dancing. Everyone was able to express their school spirit and pride to get the football team pumped up for their homecoming game! The fair came to an end at noon, when the crowd moved on to sit in the stands and cheer on the Eagles in the game against Stoughton!

Sharon High School is known for its yearly Halloween celebrations. Not many schools allow elaborate costumes, decorated cafeteria corners, and spirited pep rallies dedicated to awarding the best dressed and partaking in black and orange traditions. Many would agree that Halloween is one of the most fun and school spirited days of the year; a day where both students and teachers transform themselves, their studies, and their lesson plans in order to recognize the one day where you can be anyone you wish.

SHSTC

Sweeney lifts his razor high for all to see in the musical number, My Friends, in Act I. The intense, angry faces from the cast behind him and Mrs. Lovett foreshadow the drastic turn the the show is about to take as Sweeney creates his master plan for his "barber shop" on Fleet Street. Sweeney Todd is played by talented senior, Lee Cohen, while Mrs. Lovett (behind Lee to the left) is played by the talented junior, Tal Heller. The Cast and Crew for the fall musical rehearse from the first day of school until the performance dates in November.

The picture above is of Tal Heller and Lee Cohen, two of the leads in Sweeney Todd, in one of their many brilliant scenes together.

Sweeney Todd

Every fall, Sharon High School Theatre Company (SHSTC) performs a brilliant musical that has promise as well as outstanding actors. This year's musical, The Tale of Sweeney Todd, The Demon Barber of Fleet Street, was "one of the best performances to date". The talent of the leads as well as the many ensamble members shined through during each and every performance when they graced, or pounded, the stage. Sweeney Todd, a very graphic and unsettling story about a man who slits the necks of people to eventually get revenge on the man who stole his wife long ago, was an intense and difficult show to perform at the high school level.

Junior Liza Evans, a featured singer in the show, also agrees, "As amazingly fun as Sweeney was, I think what's even cooler is that we put on what lots of people said was the best play they've ever seen a high school perform, and that's a great feeling, putting on a show you're really proud of." During the almost 4 months of rehearsal, a family is created as Tal Heller, who plays Mrs. Lovett, states, "the theatre company becomes such a family and all you want to do is support everyone".

One can't forget the directors, technical workers, stage crew, and pit who also work equally as hard as the actors on stage. Everyone works together, and to no surprise, the show was a hit!

Senior Carrie Resnick loved being in Sweeney Todd for her fourth year as a member of SHSTC. "What a great senior show!". Kelsey Sullivan, a senior who played the Old Woman, agrees, "Even though the show was mad creeps and there was a 'dece' amount of blood/murder, everybody in the show made the experience super fun and we all had a great time."
As for a word from an audience member, "I want to know what a meat pie tastes like now!" Joey Mitchell exclaims.

The show was a success! In the wise words of Josh Marcus- Blank from a musical number, "'Sweeney was smooth, Sweeney was subtle, Sweeney would blink and rats would scuttle', such power!"

Congratulations to the cast and crew for another successful show!

Mr. SHS

Talent, Style, and Class

The contestants of this year's Mr. SHS had it all! These fine gentlemen all gave nothing but their best while showing off their flawless dance moves for the show's opener, performing their sometimes odd talents, and taking part in grueling one-question interviews. A behind the scenes video of the preparation of this noted event put the crowd in good spirits as it showcased Samantha Kim at her worst; that is, yelling at everyone to shut up. Next, the ten contestants entered, donning nothing but black sweats, wife-beaters, and Santa's hats, proceeding to perform a perfectly choreographed dance number that would have ballet talent scouts foaming at the mouth. After introducing themselves, junior MCs Sam D'Arcy and Tal Heller began to individually call out contestants to the stage in order to formally present them to the audience, complete with racy bathing suit pictures projected behind them.

Following the introductions, the talent portion of the show began. Perhaps most memorable was junior Patrick Jones's attempt at bouncing on a bouncy ball and baking a cake, all the while blindfolded. No one dared to taste his creation, so how alleged "cake" tasted no one knows for sure. It is probably best kept that way. Senior Vladimir Nere and junior Tyler Schuster both showcased their rap skills, while senior Jake Stern performed a pseudo-standup comedy routine, poking fun at high school teachers known for their unique personalities. Preceded by freshman Drew Maidment's impressive cover of Cee Lo Green's song "Forget You", which was aptly censored for all those delicate high school ears, sophomore Josh Levitt sealed the deal by singing in perfect pitch a version of The Dispatch's song "The General" that rivaled the song itself.

A few lucky freshmen girls got makeovers any socialite would die for free in front of the audience that night, all courtesy of these fine men. After the girls filed off stage, including the one that closely resembled a ripe tomato, the contestants cleaned up nicely in their formalwear, complete with escorts. All the girls looked lovely, of course, but refusing to be upstaged, Jake Stern was carried onto stage by his mystery escort, none other than vice-principal Mr. Fish. Closing off the show with individual one-question interviews, the contestants left the judges of this year's pageant with an excruciating decision to make when deciding who would win the coveted title. Between all ten qualified contestants, Jake Fishman, Patrick Jones, Josh Levitt, Drew Maidment, Joey Mitchell, Vladimir Nere, Ethan Parets, Tyler Schuster, Danny Scribner, and Jake Stern, and after much deliberation, sophomore Josh Levitt was awarded his sash and tiara and crowned Mr. SHS 2010.

JUNIOR PROM

A Night to Remember...

Christian Johnson, Josh [illegible], Tyler [illegible], and [illegible] show off their handsome tuxedos.

[illegible] Daphne [illegible], [illegible], and Amanda Myers are dressed up and ready to hit the dancefloor.

Hours before the buses arrived at Sharon High School, the girls and boys of the class of 2011 began to put on their extravagant gowns, handsome tuxedos and fastened their glistening shoes, anticipating the night to come. Classmates began arriving at friends houses, smiling and arranging themselves in lines to take classic prom pictures.

As students arrived at the high school, buses began shuttling the class to Blue Hills Country Club starting the party that would last all through the night. The Junior class began the night with a gourmet meal and mingling with fellow classmates. Quickly, the dance floor was flooded with excited students and their dates, ready to show off their best moves. The music played all night and the beats flowed through the bodies of everyone dancing, to make it a night to remember. After surviving the most stressful year of them all, the Class of 2011 came together to make memories that would last a lifetime.

Let's hear it for New York

Let's hear it for New York

Dylan's Candy Bar

This is one of the many decorations of the night, representing a spot in New York City

Class of 2012 Graffiti

This beautiful banner was created by Alex Davidson. It represented the theme of "City Night Life" in NYC with the Statue of Liberty lighting 2012.

Semi has always been about girls asking the right guy, finding the perfect BCBG number and shoes to match, and the right not too formal, not too casual hairstyle. It's less pressure than prom but more than the average bat or bar mitzvah or sweet sixteen. Getting ready is half the fun, and for our planning board, decorating was as well.

The Sophomore Class Semi-Formal took place on March 13th. The theme: city night life. A classic theme and an opportunity to create the perfect mix of fun and elegance, formal and relaxed. It brought along the idea of sophistication, yet still channeled playfulness and crazy fun. The Sharon High School cafeteria was transformed into New York City . There was a Dylan's Candy Bar in one corner, adding a little fun to the decorations, where students were able to create their own candy mixes. The theme followed into China Town, lit up with paper lanterns, and then Rockefeller Center in another corner. That section included a fully decorated Christmas tree and a make-shift ice skating rink. Rockefeller Center soon turned into the store windows in New York City. The dance floor was a construction site, fenced off with caution tape and cones. The food was all presented on vendor stalls and the entire place was decorated with lights, buildings, and street signs.

Many people called this endeavor insanity for a semi-formal dance. The Class of 2012 planning board prefers to think of it as over-the-top fun in the form of 100 cardboard boxes, thirty rolls of masking tape, fifty-five bottles of spray paint, packages upon packages of card stock, and hundreds of sticks of glue for the glue gun. Needles to say, we had our bumps along the road. The week before semi was spent in the freezing cold by planning board members, who spray painted cardboard until their fingers were red, swollen pudges. Our president's house was thoroughly trashed, the floor covered in cardboard scraps, tape, scissors, and glitter. All in all though, it was a fun time.

The semi-formal dance couldn't have been pulled off without the influx of help our planning board received. The event became a collaborative effort by many people, just like the dance itself. For the first time since high school started, our class was able to come together both behind the scenes and for the actual dance. Semi was a success; students danced the night away under the twinkling lights of New York City, snacked on treats from Dylan's Candy Bar, and posed for pictures in front of the colorful shop windows. No doubt, semi was a night in the city no one will forget.

METCO

"METCO works"

The Metropolitan Council for Educational Opportunity, or METCO, is a program for teens who live in cities, to be educated in the suburban school systems. The METCO program enriches the educational experiences of its members and the other SHS students by providing greater ethnic and cultural diversity in the school community. METCO has been around since 1966 and this year Sharon has had the pleasure of obtaining Ms.Ward as the new coordinator. Ms. Ward says her experience has been "rewarding and fun" and she finds the kids to be "inspiring".

Teen Speak Out is a program offered to each Sharon High students one time throughout the course of their high school career. Student facilitators provide a fun, open, and safe space for all individuals to share who they are with other students whom they may not know. Together, these students discuss heavy topics such as the social issues present on and off of school grounds, the every day troubles that ordinary teens face, and the unique hidden qualities that each of us hold. Through facilitated groups of different sizes, Teen Speak Out provides our school with an enjoyable, comfortable, and memorable

I KNOW WHAT YOU DID LAST SUMMER

Russell Warren and Duclinea Wetherell enjoy a bonfire to celebrate the summer.

Lauren Warshaw and her co-counselor pose for a picture on opening day.

Students spent their summers in a variety of ways. Several of us stayed close to home and were counselors at near by camps, got jobs at retail stores, or spent days enjoying the city of Boston. Some students went Mississippi and did community service with their religious organization. Others went to different countries on teen tours or camp organized trips and were able experience new adventures. During the summer many of us meet new friends, while others spent time with old friends making new memories. No matter how students spent their summers it was a relaxing, enjoyable, and carefree time for all at will always be remembered.

Laura Green, Jessica Warren, Victoria Trilling and Alix Haase enjoy a night out in Boston at Dick's Last Resort to celebrate a friend's birthday.

What they do for you

Each year, the class Planning Boards take on countless tasks including planning for the Semi Formal, the "March Madness" basketball event, as well as numerous fundraisers to benefit both their class and the community as a whole. On top of these events, the Junior and Senior Planning Boards plan unforgettable proms for their classes. Many students and faculty don't realize the amount of effort the individual class planning boards put in to benefit their class. Countless hours are spent managing funds and budgets, raising money for the class, and discussing plans at meetings. Simply stated, if planning boards didn't exist, there would be absolute chaos!

Student Council

Student Council runs homecoming carnivals, Red Cross blood drives, the Halloween haunted house, and every pep rally. So far there have been two Red Cross blood drives. Each time one student donates, they are able to help out up to three people in need. This year, student council, along with each class planning board, teamed up to create an amazing haunted house for families in town and collected food for the food pantry. The pep rallies have gotten more creative each time with games such as "pin the feather on the turkey" and a pie eating contest.

Once Upon...
A Midsummer Night's Dream

Lighting up the stage and bringing the amazing play A Midsummer Night's Dream by William Shakespeare to life, the Sharon High School Festival truly shines with unbelievable, young talent. Festival is a group of 42 select students, including actors/actresses, musicians, and crew, who travel, perform, and compete against other schools' theater companies for a chance to become state champions. These students devote many hours after school to rehearse and perfect their performance. When Festival is competing, there are certain guidelines they must follow. After carefully building all their own stage props, when they are giving their performance, they have exactly five minutes to have their stage crew set up all the props in their proper places. When the props are set, then the actors/actresses demand the stage in their stellar performance which must not exceed exactly forty minutes or they are disqualified. Festival is run by the Sharon High theater company director, Mrs. Dennis. Sharon High went to become the Massachusetts Educational Theater Guild, Inc. Semifinal Winners and advancing to the finals hoping to be the champions, beating out all 115 schools who participated. The Festival at Sharon High is full of amazingly gifted students who are able to captivate an audience and bring them to their feet at the end of every performance they deliver. They all continue to keep the beauty of the art of theater alive and growing, and their true remarkable talents shine for every one of them as they take center stage and deliver a performance no one could ever forget.

Let it Snow!

Let it Snow!

A snowman made by a Sharon resident showing their love of the snow and hoping for more...

BRING ON THE BLIZZARD

Every winter, students open their curtains and press their faces up against their windows as they admire the first snowfall. Fighting the frigid weather, everyone is super excited for their favorite winter activities. Whether it's sledding with friends, skiing or snowboarding down the biggest mountains, or just chasing others with snowballs, winter is filled with fun. As kids all shout and cheer for more snow, they bundle up and sit by the fire to keep warm. Spending time inside with family and friends everyone captures memories that they will never forget. Winter 2010 in Sharon however, was one that no one expected. With some of the strongest winds as well as being one the coldest and snowiest winter in years, Sharon had not one snow day but five snow days before February break! Students all over town shouted with joy every time they opened the school website to see the words, “SCHOOL CANCELED.” As fun as it may have been this winter, the students know they will have to make up these days at the end of the year, with an extra week of school. By the end of the winter, everyone was cheering for the snow to melt and warm weather to be on its way. Most students and faculty were getting sick of the cold winter and some even spent their snow days inside catching up on school work. However, getting to sleep in, playing in the snow, and spending time doing their favorite winter activities, this winter was one that was filled with lasting memories and one that won't ever melt away from our memories.

After surveying 43 students at Sharon High...

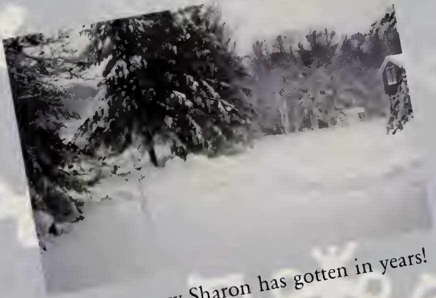
33- Liked having all the snow days overall

10- Got sick of the snow days and didn't like them

"I really liked the snow days because it was nice break from school. However at the same time at the end of the year I think I'll really regret having so many snow days because I'm almost going to have almost no time to relax before I leave for the summer."

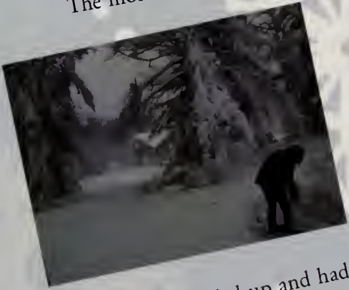
-Brahm Gardner

Many students enjoyed sledding and racing friends downhill.



The most snow Sharon has gotten in years!

Skiing, snowboarding, and tubing were popular activities students had as they sped down the highest mountains.



Many students bundled up and had to shovel in the nasty weather.

A winter wonderland as everything was coated in snow outside.

"The first two days made me so happy to get a little bit of more break from school. However, after I spent hours shoveling for days at a time, I got really irritated with the amount of snow and the sudden interruptions in school."

-Dina Fradkin

Besides trying to survive in our large and chaotic jungle, somehow we find time to adventure into the wild and see what our jungle truly has to offer us. With a variety of clubs and activities, everyone can find a small group of people, whom make the jungle a much smaller and safer place to live. Whether you enjoy planning school events, challenging yourself with math problems or decorating the school with artwork, there is a club that will provide you the needed environment to excel or develop new skills. Branching out into the jungle is what high school is all about.

"The facts in this case compel the court to return a verdict of guilty for theft of a traffic sign, and a verdict of guilty for involuntary manslaughter by willful, wanton, or reckless conduct. Thank you your honor." Dressed in a nice suit, in an actual courtroom, presenting a case in front of a judge, this is the life of a real practicing lawyer. However, here at Sharon High School, the amazing talent and work the Mock Trial team puts in will have anyone believe that these high school teenagers are in fact real lawyers. Practicing two hours every Monday through Thursday, the Mock Trial team holds a high reputation and has been known to perform as one of the top teams in the state of Massachusetts. Putting in endless hours of memorizing roles as witnesses and attorneys, the team was praised for their phenomenal work. Learning the actual hundreds of laws, these students learn to apply them to a case they study and face other teams in hopes of becoming national champions. Lead by Captains Nishanth Iyengar and Izabelle Tully, Coach Mr. Sanborn, taking over after long time Coach Mrs. Perkins retired from the team, and an actual practicing lawyer, Attorney Nebenzahl, the team this year had quite a victorious season. Beating out Dover-Sherbon, Medfield Senior High, Canton, and Needham in a tie breaker, Sharon triumphed as the winner of Region 5. Making it to the top 16 in the state, they unfortunately lost to Malden Catholic, but put up a great fight and an overall amazing season. Involved with the Massachusetts Mock Bar Association, these students all put in tremendous effort and truly display amazing talent for their love and passion of law. The Sharon High Mock Trial team holds very high hopes and are surely ready to take on the law world, potentially becoming the best lawyers of their time.

Putting it all together!

First and foremost, we hope that you will enjoy reading this yearbook as much as we enjoyed making it! This year we tried to break down the layers of the jungle and instead we discovered the hidden layers concealed deep inside ourselves and our peers. We were able to learn about the inspirations, motivations, and abilities of the students alongside us. What is most amazing of all, somehow, in our chaotic jungle of Sharon High, we find a small niche of people that are dedicated, hard-working, and willing to make this yearbook a success, no matter if it requires staying up late or canceling plans to make our own deadlines.

Girls' Tennis

With their racquets in hand, hearts pounding, and minds racing with excitement, everyone knew that the Sharon High Girls' Tennis team was on the court ready to take on their opponents. Lead by co-captains Samantha Collins, Sara Speigel, Laura Sprague, and Coach Micheroni, the team fought hard to pull off yet another great season. With a record of 6-8 going into their last two matches, the Eagles unfortunately lost to Foxboro 3-2 ending their postseason hopes. Although the girls' tennis team did not make the postseason this year, the hopes for a successful future for the team remains very high. The girls stayed determined and worked hard as a team to finish the season with a final 7-9 record. Both singles and doubles players had their strong and weak points, but overall the season was a great experience that bonded the team together closer. They continue to practice and train hard to improve and accomplish their goals as a team. The girls carry on great attitudes and enthusiasm as they look forward to facing their competition for another great season next year. Proud of what they have accomplished this year, the 2010 Sharon High Tennis season will always be remembered.

Meet Your Match

Boys Tennis

Continuing the tradition of being one of Sharon's most successful high school sport teams, the boys' tennis team ended the season with an impressive record of 15-1 in the Hockomock league, giving the team a share of the Hockomock championship, which the team shared with North Attleborough, for its 31st consecutive season. The team also made it to the state tournament, in which they lost in the semifinals to Falmouth with a score of 3-2.

Although the team did exceptionally well, the team entered the league with a much different approach and a starting lineup devoid of senior players, which made many team members nervous. Sophomore Eric Bloom said, "Going into the season, we were a little skeptical because we had such a young roster," but nonetheless, freshman Jake Steinberg agreed that the "team had a great vibe." This was due, in part, to coach Matthew Freeman's decision to avoid the stress and unnecessary pressure of focusing on the team's illustrious past, instead choosing to loosen up, enjoy themselves, and let the season play out as it may.

This strategy not only proved that Sharon's tennis team can maintain its dominance over the Hockomock league regardless of its attitude, but also improved the morale and enthusiasm of the team. "As a winning team there is always pressure, but this year it seemed to me that we were all much more relaxed as a whole. We all got along really well together, and practices were a blast each day," said sophomore Eric Bloom when talking about the lighter atmosphere of the team's games and practices. Fellow sophomore Matt Bogen echoed this sentiment when asked about the team's loss to Falmouth, "Even when we lost to North, it didn't seem like [an] apocalypse ... It was simply a setback, something we could overcome."

The team's perseverance and effort was recognized when freshman Jake Steinberg, sophomores Eric Bloom and Vivek Nangia, and junior Brad Malenich were each awarded the Hockomock League All-Star award. In addition, the team's first singles player, sophomore Vivek Nangia, was awarded the award for most valuable player.

Despite not progressing further in the state tournament, the team was more than pleased with their season; "The team is full of a great group of guys and some great tennis players, making it my favorite season of the year," said sophomore Eric Bloom. However, it was coach Matthew Freeman who summarized the spirits of the team most perfectly, "The sky is potentially the limit next year."

Sophomore Matt Bogen said, "It was a really relaxed atmosphere. Everyone knew that we wanted to win, and that we could, but the team managed to maintain a light-hearted attitude."

Diamonds Are a Girl's Best Friend

The Girls Varsity Softball team was a force to be reckoned with. With the leadership of captains Katie Balzano and Alexa Wright and the teamwork of each player, the season was a success. Although the team did not qualify for the tournament with a record of 8-12, the girls were always spirited and constantly showed excellent sportsmanship. The strong bond that they formed this season has been a testament to their hard work and dedication.

Saved By The Base

Boys Baseball

The pre-season team trip to Florida set the stage for a great year for the SHS Baseball team. The trip provided them with much needed training and bonding time. Once back in Sharon, they put their training to the test and their fantastic winning streak led them to the Hockmock finals where they came in second. All is well though, the team won 13 out of their 21 games and was left with great memories and bragging rights after David Roberto's no hitter against Holliston in the finals. As Dan Friedman put it, "it was one of the best times of my life playing on that team, and I think everyone felt the same way." Overall, the team is optimistic and Captain David Zabinsky hopes that "with a strong group of returning seniors, the team should be able to make it back to the playoffs this season through good pitching."

Lax Ladies Girls' Lacrosse

According to teammates of the 2009-2010 varsity girls' lacrosse team, they had a fun and amazing season together. Junior and class of 2012 class president Samantha Kim says, "All the girls worked extremely hard and put in a great effort."

Though the team did suffer some losses, Samantha Kim and goalie Anne Fritzon say that during the '09-'10 season the girls achieved the best record the team has seen in recent memory. Fritzon says, "I can't wait until next season," and neither can we.

Boys' Lacrosse

The 2010 lacrosse season was marked with hard work and dedication by all the boys. They joined together to create a strong team and persevered through a challenging season. Although their record was not as successful as they hoped, they were winners in terms of spirit and determination.

The three captains, Ben Noel, Josh Zeitilan, and Andrew Gruber, ran a tight team and forced the players to reach their fullest potential. Despite several losses, the boys lacrosse squad was undeniably fast, agile, and resourceful in scoring points and attempting to trick their opponents.

The season was filled with fun games in the spring and they hope to continue with their team spirit next year for an even better season.

Spring Track

Run, Jump and Hurdle

The 2010 Spring Track season was a season to remember for these boys and girls. Although they faced a difficult season, the team grew stronger as the spring progressed. Every single member put every bit of effort they could at each meet and practice, making their drive and dedication incredible! Though they did no win every meet, their spirit and hard worked proved that they were always winners, no matter the outcome.

Boys captains Ross Keith and Brad Mattocks and girls captains Jennifer Jaboin, Gina Christiano and Ali Kirsch lead a strong, determined team. Although the boys were not able to pull a win this season, the girls managed a victory against Stoughton on Thu., April 1, 2010 with a score of 71-65.

This spring season was filled with great times had by all. The team hopes to continue to improve and become an even better team as the 2011 season starts.

GOING FOR THE GOAL

BOYS' VARSITY SOCCER 2010

He dribbled the ball past his opponents, passed it to his teammate on the right, and goal, as the ball flew straight past the goalie into the net! It was a perfect assist, to a perfect goal in the vigorous sport of soccer. When the Sharon Varsity Boys' Soccer team arrived at any game, you could feel their competitiveness and confidence all over the field. Lead by co-captains Tomek Marczak , Garrett Sullivan, and Coach Kaye, the team took on every game ready to win. With a rough start to the season, with five winless games, the Eagles came back with determination and found themselves on a winning streak beating Oliver Ames, Stoughton, and Foxborough. The boys then stood to be 3-6-4 overall and 3-4-3 in the Davenport Division leaving them to have to win four out of their last five games to make the state tournament. The boys gave it all they had and even though they did not make it to the state tournament, they had an all-around great season. The Eagles ended up with a record of 3-10-5 and stayed positive as the team grew closer and made lasting memories. They continue to train hard and fight to play the sport they love. With every pass they made, every yard they ran, every goal they saved, the 2010 Sharon Varsity Boys' Soccer team played out their season to the fullest.

Tomek Marczak, co-captain, kicks the ball with all his strength after saving a goal from the opposing team.

Brad Melenich aims the ball right at the goal as he takes his shot for the Eagles.

Luke Fisher, pushes past his opponent and runs after the ball.

Ian Beach reaches out to steal the ball from his opponents to get the ball back for the Eagles.

Garrett Sullivan, co-captain, sprints down the field dribbling the ball ready to score.

Taking it to the opposing net, our eagle girls fought with every pass they made, working together as a team no matter what the circumstances. Throughout an up and down season, this was one strong quality the Girls Varsity Soccer team never let go. Sporting elaborate outfits on every game day, the group was a tight knit bunch on and off the field. Lead by Captains, Cate Horan, Candice Lavien, Liz Wluka, Head Coach Bill Wallace, and Assistant Coach Jon Lavien, the team pulled off four strong wins against Bishop Connolly, Hingham, Foxboro, and Stoughton. Likewise, they had four ties against Canton, North Attleboro, and Attleboro back to back to finish up their season. Although the girls fought long and hard for a spot in the tournament, unfortunately their overall record did not take them there. The team is now training in the off season in hopes of returning next year an even stronger team, ready to win.

Driving out the competition

Walking onto every course with smiles and determination, the Sharon Golf Team excelled to improve with every game they played throughout their season. With a great sense of enthusiasm and love for the game of golf, the team gave it their all with every stroke they played. With a very young team lead by Captains Josh Parness and Jake Dennis, the whole team bonded and learned valued lessons that both mentally and physically improved their games. Coach Thor VanVaerenewyck guided the team the whole season and helped each and every player at every practice and game they had. Finishing the season with a 6-8 record and unfortunately not reaching their goal of making it to the state playoffs, the team never once gave up and continue to strive and practice harder and come back stronger for the next season. The Sharon Eagles did grab second place at the Hockomock League Championships falling just two strokes behind first place, Mansfield High School. Highlighting three of the Sharon Eagles at the Hockomock Championships, Captain Josh Parness ended up in third place for the second year in a row, Captain Jake Dennis tied for fourteenth, and Matt Corman tied for fifth place. Although the season was not perfect, the team grew closer than ever and learned a lot from each other. Every player contributed and continued to grow and get better at their own game while supporting everyone else on the team. With the amount of talent and passion the players on the Sharon Golf Team already exhibit, the team has a bright future ahead as they are ready to win by driving out the competition.

Captain Josh Parness

"We have a bright future and I was really impressed with everybody's commitment to practice on the weekends, as well as everybody's enthusiasm day in and day out. It was a really fun year and I wish everybody the best of luck in the future."

Capain Jake Dennis

"Although we did not make the playoffs, our younger players gained valuable experience which will help them immensely in the years to follow. Their dedication and passion for the game of golf will lead to great success for the Sharon golf team and I wish them the best of luck."

SAILING

SETTING SAIL FOR SUCCESS

David Gilman

Evan Gregory

shares a laugh with a teammate.

The 2010 season was one of the best for the SHS sailing team, who brought in their sails with a 14-2 record.

Many of the people on varsity were seniors who were on the team the previous year. However, "It was also a good year for the underclassmen, as many of the sailors on JV also got to come along to the varsity meets and experience what they're like," said junior member Kyle Holzinger.

Aayushi Mehta, another junior member, agrees. "It's a great team with a lot of camaraderie if you're trying to find your niche in high school sports."

Last year's team included 25 members, and currently consists of 28 people.

"Many people who join the sailing team stay with it, despite the cold weather late in the season. The team gets along extremely well. Despite our differences, we can always relate to sailing," Holzinger added.

"Sailing is a unique sport and I wanted to try something that was out of the ordinary. I love the close friendships and sense of community on the sailing team; we're like a family, " Mehta said.

Girls Reach New Goals

Field Hockey

The Sharon Varsity Field Hockey team had one of their best seasons ever in 2010. The girls got their first win in a very, very long time, and managed to end the season strong with an impressive record of 5-13. Sharon Varsity Field Hockey has always been known as a fun, positive team with infallible spirit, and this season the girls were able to have fun and win games at the same time. The Eagles won their opener against Wareham, 5-2, and ended their season with a win, 2-1, against Attleboro. Overall, a record of 5-13 pleased both longtime Varsity coach Peg Arguimbau and all of the hardworking players on the team. Each and every one of the players worked hard to make the season successful. The girls' dedication, perseverance, and optimistic attitude lead to a victorious season, both on and off the field.

Football

Senior Jordan Aronson only has eyes for the end zone, explaining his All Hock status.

Sophomore Eric Lesser kicks the football with precision and strength to give the team an extra one point advantage.

After all the long practices, intense lifting schedules, and hours on the field, the boys really stepped up their game this fall season. The football team continued their success last year to this season, winning their first game against Randolph and making a tie with rival team Canton Bulldogs.

The boys put up a tough fight against all other teams with high scores, plenty of touchdowns, and close games. The captains were also especially proud of the hard work and dedication their teammates put into the sport. Captain, Derrick Mann comments, “I've never seen a football program develop and thrive as well as we did this year. We might not have been able to show it with the wins, but it was what happened behind the scenes where you can see a huge improvement on not only individual skill but skill as a whole team.”

With hard work and determination, the Eagles completed another season filled with teamwork and hope to be even more successful in the years to come.

Cheerleading

The Eagle Girls with Pep

These girls worked hard everyday to be prepared to cheer on our football teams. At every game they were screaming and jumping for the team. Some of them prepared for a competition on the same day as Homecoming. At their competition, the girls worked hard but unfortunately came up too short and did not qualify to the next competition. They plan on working just hard in the winter season and also into next year. Everyone always loved seeing these girls cheer their hearts out at games and we can't wait to see what next year has in store!

FULL OUT TO THE FINISH LINE

"Welcome to the land of Magical Forest, Fantasy Island, and general frolicking. This season was one of hard work and long miles for the girl's team, but we somehow managed to avoid potential hit-and-runs from a certain red pick-up truck. On this team revelry doesn't just end after five o' clock, but extends far into the hours of night. We were a small but mighty team, a force to be reckoned with, like a flaming hot scorpion drenched in Tabasco. For those of you who were here, you know; for those of you who weren't, you wish."
- Senior captains Elena Huang and Caroline McClain

A lot of hard work, we don't pretend,
But it's all worth it in the end.

The team bond is unbelievably tight,
We cross the finish line with all our might.

Running in circles filled with drama,

What a great season it was this fall,
But a victory next year wouldn't hurt at all.

On the Attack

Girls Volleyball

Although this year's volleyball team struggled all season trying to keep up with the size and experience of Hockomock League opponents, they managed to end the year as winners. Senior Co-Captain Brittany Whiting summed up the season, "We started off strong, struggled mid-season, and finished strong. Our record did not reflect the way we can perform. We played hard and took many of the games to five sets, but unfortunately the turnout did not end in our favor." The team's lack of height and experience were obstacles that they had to overcome. As Coach Phillips described the game at the varsity level, "When you're playing varsity, it is a difference because you're playing the best that the other team has. When you're playing at the J.V. level you're playing similar players and players that are learning the game, but when you play at the varsity level, the other team is putting their best out there. I think a lot of the girls learned what it's going to take next year to win at the varsity level." Although the Volleyball Team was very young and inexperienced, they triumphed over adversity and won their last game against Attleboro. They also participated in three cancer-awareness games, finishing the season on a high note. Overall, the team is optimistic for next year when their high scoring juniors will gain seniority.

Undefeated Hockomock Champions

This years captains (pictured on the right) Kelsey Seto, Lauren Burke, and Cori Plesko lead their team to victory as the 2011 Undefeated Hockomock Champions. At the beginning of the season it was said that there were so many talented people this year that it was hard to pick the perfect team, but it seems as though they did a pretty great job!

The team spent the season bonding and welcoming its' new members. With each win they only grew closer and ready to take on their next challenge. The team also had members compete in the state individual meat, many of who did extremely well. Endurance and Strength

STRENGTH

Taking it to the Mats

Determination, strength, concentration, discipline and endurance are some of the key ingredients for an excellent wrestling team. This year for Sharon, they demonstrated all of those skills, which is what makes wrestling one of the toughest sports to compete in. The young team, led by seniors Eli Schwarzchild, Jay Delgadillo, Jake Spitzer and Anthony Grealish, placed fifth at the Division II South Sectional and had an overall record of 8-17. The team finished with Jay Delgadillo winning a sectional championship and by beating Oliver Ames with a score of 40-37. They are a young team which returns eleven Varsity Wrestlers from the fourteen positions. This will be the team for Sharon to watch in the upcoming years.

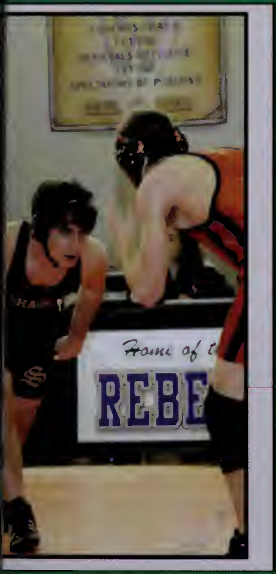
Seniors and Juniors

The team was lead this year by juniors and seniors:
Bottom: Jay Delgadillo, Eli Schwarzchild, Taj Salam and Shai Berk.
Top: Anthony Grealish, Lucas Coughlin and Zachary Jay.

Teamwork

The team huddles and prepares for their next match.

Junior Zachary Jay has a good hold and is in a great position to take his opponent down.



Sophomore Nick Kerwin demonstrates that concentration is a key in winning a match.

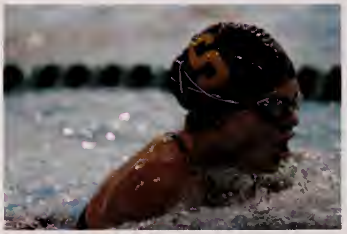
Swimming & Diving

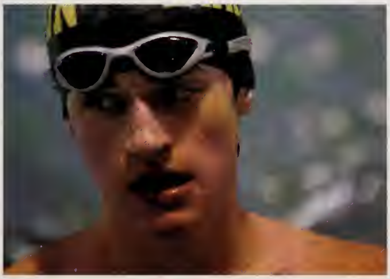
A Stroke Ahead

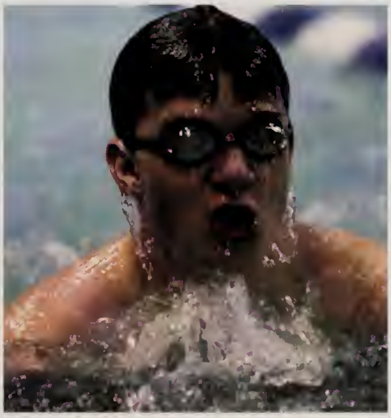
"Family" was the word that senior captain Michelle Shknevsky used to describe her four-year experience as a swimmer on Sharon High School's swimming and diving team. Indeed, the swimming and diving team is often noted for their unbreakable familial bond and strong work ethic. However, that is not to say that being a swimmer or a diver is easy; be it travelling to pools outside of Sharon, practicing on the weekends, or coming home late, being a member of this team is no walk in the park. As this year's captain, Michelle knows first-hand the difficulties of being in charge of such a large team. "Being a captain definitely had its ups and downs. The amount of work that the captains have to do for the team each year isn't evident when you're just another swimmer," she said. However, she added that "Overall, being a captain had more positive aspects to it than negative."

The team performed extremely well this year, with the boys placing second in the Hockomock League, while the girls, handicapped by a decrease in the amount of female members, were still able to comfortably swim (pun intended) into fourth place. Although the team did not place first, in a defining moment, the girl's team was only ten points shy of defeating King Philip Regional High School, one of the most competitive and advanced teams in the league. It is in reflection of moments like these that Michelle feels most proud of her team and the progress they have made over the course of her tenure there as well as for the duration of this year; "Most of them have pulled through each year and have been improving yearly, which makes me quite happy," she added.

At the bittersweet end of such a satisfying season, Michelle does not ruminate on the sorrows of leaving a sports team she feels so connected to, but instead, wishes her fellow teammates a heartfelt goodbye, adorned with a promise of her inevitable return: "All I can say is that I will miss every single one of the swimmers from the swim team this year. I promise I'll come back whenever I can to visit you guys, and don't ever forget that Mama Shknevs will always be there for you."







Party On...
It's Mardi Gras Time!

Bright lights, beating music, groovy dance moves, and a crowd full of amazing smiles: Welcome to the 2011 Sharon High Sophomore Semi. After months of anticipation, the girls spent the day getting manicures on their nails, their hair curled to perfection, makeup done to look stunning, and they put on their best smiles as they were super excited for the night to come. On the other hand, the boys put on their best suits, straightened their ties, picked up the beautiful corsages, and put their best foot forward to act like the perfect ladies' man for the night. With everyone dressed in their best, the night was perfect! The theme for this year's Semi was "Mardi Gras" and the Class of 2013 Planning Board transformed the high school cafeteria into the bright, festive carnival scene! Streamers, beads, masks, signs, and many other eye catching decorations truly brought the dance to a whole new place. The guest DJ, the awesome food, and just the party atmosphere truly made it a night to never forget. With the help from the planning board advisers, Ms. Orthman and Mrs. Crowley, and the other gracious volunteer teacher chaperons, Semi was a huge success! From the time the dance started, until the last song was played, everyone was out on the dance floor having an amazing time. Whether it was sharing the night with a date, or simply having an amazing time with friends, Semi was filled with fun memories that will last a lifetime.

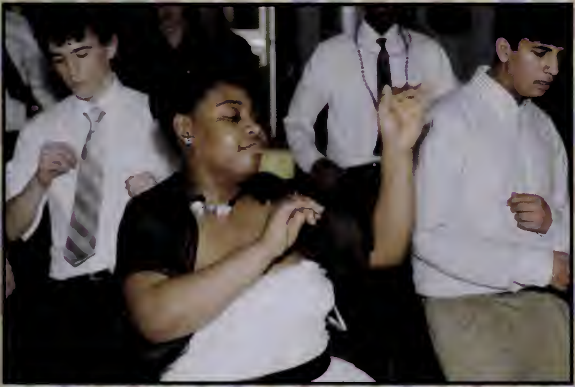
"It was so much fun and being on the planning board, I think all of our effort to make it look nice really paid off. It was overall a good time." - Emma Stern



"It was honestly a lot better than I thought it would be. The decorations and theme were cool and I loved all the colors." -Jake Ryter

FACULTY SECTION

Even teachers have hidden talents

They devote their work life by coming to school every day and standing in front of a class to share their knowledge about a subject they are truly passionate about. However, beyond the textbook they teach you from, the tests they spend hours upon grading, and the all so infamous homework they assign every night, students are often amazed that yes, the teachers at Sharon High School have lives too. Whether it's sharing their musicality by performing in bands, showing off their athletic abilities on sports teams, or just any other special hobbies they have, the faculty is truly unique with hidden talents. Being more than just amazing teachers, you might be surprised by what the faculty does outside of school. Take a look!

Mr. Manny

Mr. Manny, a teacher in the math department, speaks a native tongue which also spoken by furry bipeds native to the forest moon of Endor. You might know them as the ewoks from Star Wars!

Ms. Lampert

Ms. Lambert, a teacher in the math department, knits chemo caps and donates them to Dana Farber. She also started both the town and high school swim team.

Mr.Schoonmaker

Mr. Schoonmaker, a teacher in the science department, is a semi-professional musician and loves playing the guitar, mandolin, and auto-harp.

Ms. Walker

Ms. Walker, a teacher in the English department, loves speeding down mountains as she skis on Loon Mountain.

Mr. Quinlan

Mr. Quinlan, the head of the science department, is obsessed with the weather and interned at Channel 7 under the tutledge of Harvy Lenard.

Ms. Reardon

Ms. Reardon a teacher in the math department, loves spending time outside of school playing soccer.

Mr. Sanborn

Mr. Sanborn, a teacher in the social studies department, loves swaying to the rhythm of the music while ballroom dancing.

Administration

Jose Libano, Principal

When I was a child, I thought that if I studied hard enough, one day I would have all the answers. Instead, what I have learned through my life and my education is that the more one learns, the more one realizes there is so much more left to learn.

"I hope that the days come easy and the moments pass slow, and each road leads you where you want to go.
And if you're faced with a choice, and you have to choose, I hope you choose the one that means the most to you.
And if one door opens to another door closed, I hope you keep on walkn' till you find the window, if it's cold outside, show the world the warmth of your smile.
I hope you never look back, but you never forget, all the ones who love you in the place you left.
I hope you always forgive, and you never regret, and you help somebody every chance you get.
Oh, you find God's grace in every mistake, and you always give back more than you take.
But more than anything, yeah, more than anything, my wish for you, is that this life becomes all that you want it to.
Your dreams stay big, and your worries stay small, you never need to carry more than you can hold...
...may all your dreams stay big!"

We can't begin to tell you
Just how loved you are
We can't believe how time has flown
And how you've come so far

Forgive us when we stop and stare
And tears fall from our eyes
Time flew by so quickly
Sure took us by surprise

Now here you stand before us
A respectful, honest man
Strong-willed and determined
Who always says, "I can"

There are no doubts within our minds
That you'll indeed succeed
Your future holds so much in store
But 'that smile' is all you need

No matter where life leads you
No matter what you do
We'll always be your biggest fans
And we'll be here for you.

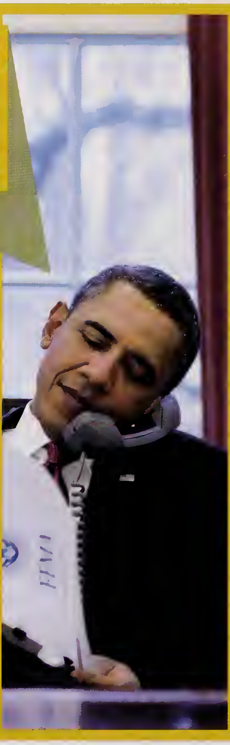
IN RECOVERY
As the economy showed signs of recovery from the worst recession most Americans had ever known, President Barack Obama's satisfaction ratings also became more positive.



43%

1 OUT OF 4
TEENS
REPORTED BEING BULLIED.

CYBER-BULLYING
Bullying didn't always happen at school or even in person. Some of the most vicious attacks happened over the internet on social networking sites or via instant messages. Many worried that internet bullying was becoming more prominent because of the relative anonymity afforded by phantom screen names.

(clockwise from top left)

NEW HOMEOWNERS REJOICE First-time home buyers received tax credits of up to $8,000 when Congress passed a bill intended to revitalize a struggling housing market. The early summer deadline was later extended to serve those buyers whose closings were delayed due to the number of loans being processed. WAR IS OVER In late August, President Obama announced that Operation Iraqi Freedom had officially ended. While the last combat brigade had already vacated, some U.S. troops remained in Iraq through year's end to help with training new Iraqi military forces. HEALTH-CARE REFORM The Affordable Care Act was signed into effect in March 2010, with the hope of enhancing accessibility and quality of health care for all Americans. Prospects for a potential repeal continued for months. PAYROLL TAX CUT Aimed at stimulating the economy by increasing take-home pay, these cuts saved workers earning $50,000 an estimated $1,000. Some opponents worried about the decrease the cuts would cause in Social Security funding.

A REAL ISSUE: BULLYING

Though bullies had been feared in schools and neighborhoods for centuries, the changing landscape of peer teasing and torture took several visible turns in recent years.

In the past, intimidation and verbal or physical abuse may have been most common forms of bullying. Another form of bullying, social alienation, became more powerful as a result of cyber bullying, where a victim's reputation may have been destroyed via emails, blogs, forum posts or text messages.

After what seemed to be an increase in teen and tween suicides due to bullying, many schools, communities and other organizations moved to provide programs and information for affected students and their parents/teachers.

ITGETSBETTER.ORG

This movement, inspiring nearly 10,000 user-created videos and more than 30 million views, was started in 2010 by author Dan Savage. Among the celebrities, politicians and businesses submitting videos were President Obama, Hillary Clinton and employees of both Facebook and Google. It was a place where people could share their stories, take the It Gets Better Project pledge and watch videos of love and support.

NATIONAL SUICIDE PREVENTION LIFELINE

By calling 1-800-273-TALK, anyone feeling the extreme effects of bullying could get the support they might need from trained volunteers who were ready to help.

CARTOON NETWORK'S "STOP BULLYING, SPEAK UP" CAMPAIGN

Kid-centric television channels such as Cartoon Network stepped up to the plate in the fight against bullying. They launched their own campaign to encourage kids to speak up and to ultimately get their schools involved in anti-bullying programs.

THE TREVOR PROJECT AND LIFELINE

The Trevor Project was established to end suicide among young people by providing life-saving and life-affirming resources including a nationwide, 24/7 crisis intervention lifeline (1-866-4-U-TREVOR) digital community and advocacy/educational programs that created a safe, supportive and positive environment for everyone.

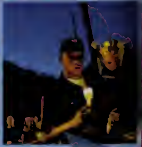
Faisal Shahzad, a 30-year-old Pakistani-born U.S. citizen, was arrested as he tried to leave the country and later pleaded guilty to the attempt.

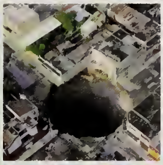
HOW BIZARRE In a matter of a couple of days in January, hundreds of birds and fish died mysteriously in several states. WV MINING TRAGEDY A devastating April 2010 explosion killed 29 miners and injured others; the mining company had a history of safety and environmental infractions. NEANDERTHAL DNA German scientists partially reconstructed the Neanderthal genome and proved the survival of the genome in modern humans.



AND THEN
Nearly 100 tons of dead fish, mostly sardines, washed up on a Brazilian beach and reports of other mass deaths came from Italy and France.

While theories about the mass deaths included everything from cold stress and fireworks to hail, many scientists suggested that the various occurrences were merely coincidental.

NATURE



THE 'HOLE' STORY

A massive sinkhole in Guatemala City opened up and swallowed a 3-story building after Tropical Storm Agatha flooded the area with more than three feet of rain in May and June.

UNRELENTING RAIN

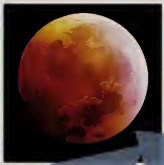
Nashville suffered its worst flood in more than 80 years after storms dumped more than 13 inches of rain on the region in two days. Buildings were flooded and more than 30 died.

LA NIÑA MONSOONS

Nearly 2,000 were killed and an estimated one quarter of the land in Pakistan was flooded in July. Miles of highway and railways and acres of farmland were ruined.

SLEEP TIGHT

Bedbugs terrorized the nation, invading hotels and stores nationwide. Because of the problem, a National Bedbug Registry allowed travelers to investigate hotels before checking in.



OUT OF THIS WORLD

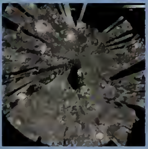
A solstice lunar eclipse — the first since 1638 — occurred on Dec. 21, 2010, and was visible across North America.

MINING MATTERS

In recent years, 51 coal seams in West Virginia had contributed 30,000 direct jobs to the state's economy and its status as the nation's largest underground coal source.

OLDEST GALAXY

NASA's Hubble Space Telescope discovered a small star cluster 13.2 billion light years away; the Milky Way was 100 times greater in size.

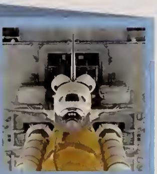


LUNAR WATER

A probe found millions of tons of water ice at the Moon's north pole. The water source could be used to sustain a moon base or generate oxygen.

NEW PLANETS

NASA announced that its Kepler Telescope had identified 54 planets that could sustain human life. Conditions conducive to liquid water meant the planets might be inhabitable.



LAST SHUTTLE

The third space shuttle flight of 2011 — and NASA's very last shuttle flight ever — was scheduled for Atlantis on June 28, 2011.

/OIL SPILL IN THE GULF

BRITISH PETROLEUM
CEO Tony Hayward testified before the House Energy and Commerce Oversight and Investigations Subcommittee. Hayward resigned from his post on July 27, 2010.

205 MILLION GALLONS
The amount of crude oil that spilled into the Gulf of Mexico made this the world's largest accidental oil spill in history. After five months, the well was declared effectively dead."

THE PEOPLE SPEAK
BP station boycotts and anti-BP social media groups as well as traditional protests, like this one in Vienna, Austria, allowed people to make their feelings about the oil spill known.

BOUND TO HAPPEN
The follow-up report by the National Commission on the BP Deepwater Horizon Oil Spill and Offshore Drilling said 'systemic' problems caused the blowout/oil spill and only 'significant reform' could prevent future spills.

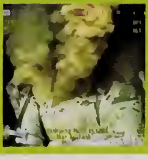
THE STATS

APRIL 20 2010
BP oil rig Deepwater Horizon exploded in the Gulf of Mexico, killing 11 men and injuring 17 workers. In late April, BP estimated the resulting leak at about 5,000 barrels (210,000 gallons) a day

A NEW ESTIMATE
In June, the government produced other figures, estimating that 30,000 - 65,000 barrels (as much as 2.7 million gallons) of crude was pumping into the gulf each day.

OBAMA SPEAKS
The President addressed the nation after traveling to the gulf to survey the damage made to the Louisiana coastline.

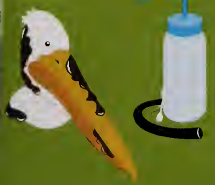
ORGANIZED CHAOS
For months, controlled burns were conducted at sea to help prevent any further spreading of the oil to the shoreline. Coastline in four states was affected.



LIVE FEED
The nation was able to survey the oil escaping from the leak site via BP's live video feed, assuring the public that the leak would be taken care of.

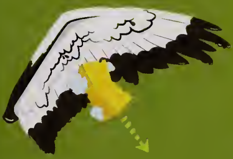
MONEY WHERE THEIR MOUTH IS
BP projected that they had already spent $2 billion on clean-up efforts by June. The budget tallied $20 billion over three years.

HOW TO PROPERLY WASH OIL-COVERED BIRDS



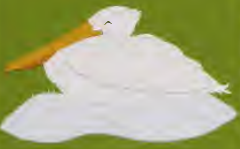
STEP 1

ently flush eyes with warm saline solution. Swab oil from nostrils and bill. Remove any oil from stomach with tube.



STEP 2

Wash oil from body and wings with a dishwashing solution. Make sure to wipe the feathers in the direction they are growing.



STEP 3

Repeat 3-4 times until oil is completely washed away, then gently towel dry bird. Bird will be ready for release in 2-4 days.

DEAD SERIOUS Oil contamination is often deadly for birds if they are not properly washed and cared for. Oil reverses birds' water resistant feathers, making them vulnerable to temperature change. Oily feathers also make it impossible for birds to fly and can even drag them underwater to drown. The oil can also cause internal harm when birds try to preen the oil from their feathers. It can cause kidney, liver and reproductive damage among other things. CLEANING EFFORTS Scientists and other volunteers worked on all kinds of wildlife affected by the spill. The processes for cleaning birds, turtles and dolphins varied, as did survivors' chances for recovery. Thousands of birds and dozens of turtles and dolphins perished. LASTING EFFECTS In addition to the casualties and the damage to wildlife, there are numerous other long-term effects. Human health issues included increased risk of cancer and other ailments, as well as escalated stress. Two of the region's other major industries (tourism and seafood) were shut down immediately and suffered lasting losses. Louisiana traditionally contributed a third of the nation's shrimp, oysters, crab and crawdads and, despite massive marketing campaigns, hotels and resorts on the gulf shore suffered decreased occupancy throughout the summer.

STRENGTH IN NUMBERS

By June, 558,000 barrels had been collected from the water's surface and nearly 1,240 miles worth of booms had been set up to prevent oil from reaching the shoreline.

HELPLESS

While four wildlife rehabilitation centers were established in response to the oil spill, 36 national wildlife sanctuaries were threatened.

OTHERS JOINED IN

Mexico, Norway, Canada and the Netherlands all donated equipment (such as the water-skimming system on the right) to aid in the clean-up efforts.

JULY 15, 2010

After nearly three months, the leak was finally capped, but not before the effects of the spill could be seen in photos that were taken from space.

NO LONGER ASEA

It was estimated that more than 125 miles of Louisiana shoreline was contaminated with the washed up crude oil.

OIL CAPTURE RIG

Discoverer Enterprise, a deepwater drilling vessel, aided in recovering the spilled oil gushing from the leak site after a cap was placed in June.

/THE MAKING OF

TIGERS EDGE DUCKS The top-ranked Auburn Tigers defeated the No. 2 Oregon Ducks 22-19 in the BCS Championship game in Glendale, AZ as the 2010-11 season wrapped up. Auburn quarterback and Heisman Trophy winner Cam Newton threw for 256 yards and rushed for another 64, accounting for two touchdowns. Freshman running back Michael Dyer was named MVP. Senior Wes Byrum kicked his sixth career game-winning field goal on the last play of the game to save the Tigers' perfect season. This was the fifth consecutive national championship for the SEC.

FAST AND FURIOUS X 5 Jimmie Johnson came in second to Carl Edwards at the Ford 400 at Homestead-Miami, but that was enough to vault him over Denny Hamlin in the points race to win his fifth consecutive NASCAR Sprint Cup Championship. Hamlin's car was damaged early in the race and never challenged for the lead. Only Richard Petty and Dale Earnhardt, with seven championships each, had more titles than Johnson. Between 2002 (when he joined Hendrick Motorsports) and 2010, Johnson recorded 53 wins, 203 top-ten finishes and 25 pole positions.

DUKE DOES IT AGAIN The Duke Blue Devils captured the NCAA men's basketball championship for a fourth time with a 61-59 win over Butler in Indianapolis, IN. Duke's Final Four title, their first since 2001, snapped Butler's 25-game win streak. FREE FALLIN' Canadian freestyle skier Kaya Turski, in her first run since ACL surgery in April, claimed gold in the 2011 Winter X Slopestyle, repeating her win from last year. Turski also took silver in the 2011 Freestyle World Championships. THREE OUT OF FOUR Tennis star Rafael Nadal won the French Open, Wimbledon and the U.S. Open, bringing his total of Grand Slam victories to nine. Roger Federer won the Australian Open.

THE CREAM RISES Paula Creamer held off competitors Suzann Pettersen and Na Yeon Choi to secure victory at the 65th Women's U.S. Open. This was her first major tournament win.

RATINGS SOAR An estimated 715 million viewers — approximately one in 10 people alive at the time — watched the final match of the 2010 World Cup.

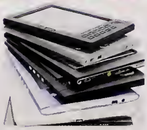
Super Mario Galaxy 2 was introduced with a rolling release for the Nintendo Wii in the spring of 2010 and was considered one of the best video games of all time with a 97/100 rating on Metacritic.

USING STREET VIEW

At the Feb. 11, 2011 launch of the Google Art Project website, it was revealed that art lovers could "visit" acclaimed galleries worldwide, browsing famous artwork with just a click of their mouse.

eREADERS

Amazon's Kindle, Barnes & Noble's Nook, Apple's iPad and the newcomer Samsung Galaxy were among the eReaders/tablet devices sold in 2010, making personal libraries mobile.



MUSIC EVERYWHERE

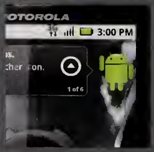
Sonos Home Music System allowed listeners to hear their favorite music in multiple rooms with a remote and any computer. Similar systems were also created for iPads and other devices.

BIG BAGS

From the runways at Fashion Week to malls and campus hallways and classrooms, the popularity of the hobo bag and other supersized purses was apparent.

RAY-BAN REVIVAL

When these '80s mainstays first made their comeback, vintage stores and eBay were practical sources, but demand encouraged renewed production.



SMARTPHONES

It seemed that nearly everyone had become increasingly dependent on their smartphones, toting an iPhone, Droid or Blackberry wherever they went.

JEGGINGS

When designers crossed leggings with jeans, they got comfy jeggings. Even Conan O'Brien donned a pair on screen in support of this trendy style.

SKINNY JEANS

Hipsters all over the U.S. and Europe started the revival of popularity in these taut denim pants, but the style had become mainstream in recent years.

BOOTS GALORE

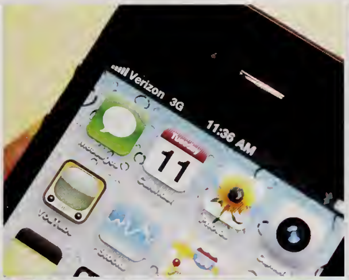
From flats to spiky heels and everywhere in between, boots seemed to command fashion attention as they completed outfits of many styles.

ANOTHER DIMENSION Sales of another new tech fad, 3-D television, nearly doubled in 2011 from when the technology was first introduced just a year earlier. With an estimated four million 3-D sets sold in 2011, industry consultants suggested that figure could double again by 2012 as manufacturers hope to tap into the 3-D gaming market.

INVISIBLE CURRENTS The technology of inductive charging or wireless charging of any device with a lithium battery made its way into homes and offices when users became able to lay their mobile devices on a "power mat" and charge them without any wires or adaptors.

iPHONE ENVY

After five years of the iPhone only being available on AT&T's network, Verizon revealed that they'd become a carrier for the most popular smartphone on the market in February 2011. Verizon announced its most successful first-day sales in company history selling 2.9 million phones in a two-hour span to existing customers. While new customers were required to wait a week to purchase Verizon's iPhone, sales data was not immediately available, partially because of high online sales.



TV/BROWSER OR BOTH?

A relatively new technology, Google TV was an internet-connected TV platform that allowed users to stream videos, movies and music and access other information downloadable from the internet on larger screens. Introduced at a May 2010 web developers' conference, Google TV was directly incorporated into some newer high-definition televisions and Blu-ray players. In addition, some users acquired a set-top box containing the Android-based system and necessary accessories in order to have split-screen access to surf the web on the TV while still watching other programming.

Softball

This was a big year for the softball team, they finally made it to the post-season after 30 years. Coach Deb Parker was quoted as saying "It's enormous, we've been chasing this for over 30 years". The team was excited about getting themselves to the posts-eason, and thought they didn't leave the way they wanted to.

"This is by far the most talented team I've coached in seven years and seen in the last twenty, so they definitely deserve to be out there", says Parker about the team. These girls worked their butts off to get this far, and the satisfaction of going further than past SHS softball teams have been able to for thirty years should make them pretty proud of themselves. It is also an especially satisfying way for the seniors to end their time at SHS.

Sharon High Girls Tennis Team

Co-captains Melissa Yuan and Sam Salvatore.

Ready to take on any challenge an opposing team brought, the 2010-2011 Sharon Girls Tennis team had a great season. Led by co-captains senior Sam Salvatore and junior Melissa Yuan along with Coach Abram and Coach Micheroni, the whole team worked extremely hard. Practicing everyday after school during the nice, spring season, all the girls devoted much of their effort and contributed to their great season. Having much talent on the team, the team played almost all of their players in at least one varsity match. The loud cheers and support they got from each other not only showed a display of great team spirit, but also how the team itself was almost like a family. The girls trained hard and made it to the second round of states, finishing as one of the top teams in the Hockomock League. Playing as one of the strong teams in their league, they were always putting up a fight with their opponents. Playing against some of the strongest, toughest teams in their league, the girls truly never gave up and always played every point with all their strength. The team has high hopes of continuing their great success and they all look forward to continuing their passion for tennis as they finished the 2010-2011 season off strong and are ready to come back bigger and better next year.

SAILING

This was not the greatest season for the SHS sailing team with more losses than wins, but the team bonds more over the experience than the score. They work together despite the occasional unruly weather conditions, and the rare occasional injury, (watch your fingers!).

As it has been said by team members before, sailing is something all the teammates can relate to with one another, despite the possibility of being from different social circles. They work hard and seem to have a lot of fun doing it. Props to the sailing team for their extraordinary effort this season, and good luck next year.

Boys Lacrosse

The 2011 boys lacrosse team had an amazing season that included many wins and only a few slight losses. Their great teamwork and athletic ability gave them enough wins to get them to a tournament in Peabody where the eagles faced an unfortunate loss. Although it ended short this season will always be a memorable one.

Dreamfar Marathon

Below: A student tying his laces so that he won't trip and hurt himself on his run.

On the day of the marathon, the excitement and anticipation cannot be described. Over 5000 runners waited in the street in Providence for the run to begin. Among those runners were students and teachers from Sharin High School and also from Newton North, Newton South, and Brookline High Schools. This elite group of students and teachers are among only 1% of people who will succeed in running a marathon.

They dedicated most of their year to training to run a marathon, which is an incredible 26.2 miles. Along with them are their mentors, a group of teachers who are running alongside the students and helping them get through training. The training included running three days per week, twice after school in Sharon and every Saturday in Brookline. they ran, rain or shine, snow or sleet.

But is was all worth it, for the feeling that they felt when they crossed that finish line on May 1. They achieved something that very few people ever will in their lifetime. And for the students, they did it before they graduated High School.

MISSION:

Dreamfar High School Marathon turns the road into the classroom. We challenge high school students to reach their full potential in and out of school by demonstrating how dreams can be realized through hard work. DHSM focuses on character building, setting realistic goals, fostering teamwork and establishing a safe endurance base. We believe in our students' physical and emotional strength and fortitude; we look at the marathon course as the first of many trails they can blaze.

YOU JUST GOT SERVED!

Incredible. Unstoppable. Unbelievable. These are just some of the amazing words that come to peoples' minds when they think of the 2010-2011 Sharon High boys tennis team. Having some pure, young talent on the team, the boys had the perfect season. Going 16-0, undefeated, the boys' team finished first in the Hockomock League for 32nd consecutive year. Lead by co-captains senior Brad Malenich and Jeremy Adler along with Coach Freeman, the team hard work paid off as they took down their opponents one by one. Supporting each team member, they all worked together to strategize and train. The boys' tennis team gained the reputation as one of the most respected sports teams for their amazing display of team work and just pure talent. The team is honored to have some of the best players in the Hockomock League. Doubles partners Eric Bloom and Jake Steinberg were named Hockomock League All-Stars while Vivek Nangia was named Hockomock League MVP. They continue to play in the MIAA state tournament and hope to finish as one of the top schools in Massachusetts. Working with unbelievable determination and work ethics, the team trains every day for hours and play on their own to improve their skills and only get better. With the 2010-2011 season coming to a close end, they will still continue to train and get better and better until they reach absolute perfection. With amazing new talent coming in every year, the team is excited to keep their tradition their unstoppable love and power for the game of tennis.

A night to remember

This year's junior prom was held at the Lombardo's Ballroom in Randolph, Massachusetts and was certainly a night to remember! After being greeted by the giant chandelier in the foyer, students walked into the ballroom which was illuminated by a majestic purple light. The students danced the night away and had an unforgettable experience. Junior Prom was another success for the class of 2012 executive and planning boards. A lot of time, effort, and thought went into every detail of the night.

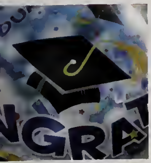
Real World Jungle, here we come...

GRADUATION



And we are READY!!!

The weather could not have been more perfect, a breezy and sunny 72 degree day. Parents, family and friends packed the bleachers to celebrate the graduation of the class of 2011. The seniors started in the tennis courts and walked onto the field in their caps and gowns. The ceremony began with Mr. Libano welcoming everyone. Then, the choir sang the Star Spangled Banner to open the ceremonies. Senior Class President Cate Horan made the first speech and talked about the "energy" of her class. The inspiring valedictorian speech was given by Alexander Wardstadt who talked of his own experiences, and then Alexander Polyak gave the class chosen, (very witty) speech. Dr. Dunham gave her last commencement farewell and Glenn Allen, Chair of the School Committee commented on his experiences being the father of one of the graduates. A tribute was given to retiring teacher John Brande by asking him to address the class.

After all the speeches, the diplomas were finally handed out. The recession was serenaded by "The Peak of Otter" okayed by the High School Concert Band.

Best wished to the Class of 2011 as you all leave Sharon High to find your new place in the jungle we call the real world.

Go with your hearts...
... and follow your dreams...
